

Disposable patient blanket

Eliminates the need for laundry or linen services

A photograph of several white disposable patient blankets stacked on a teal surface. The blankets are folded and layered, showing their soft texture and quilted patterns. One blanket in the foreground has a distinct dotted or perforated pattern along its edge.

White Disposable Patient Blanket

Ensure patient comfort and dignity

Medline's White Disposable Patient Blanket contributes to patient comfort and maintaining dignity during examinations and surgeries, in the perioperative and postoperative periods, or during emergency/ambulance services.

It can quickly and easily address your patients' needs for coverage and warmth without the requiring a warming unit.

The images shown are for illustrative purposes.
The patient blanket is to be placed over the patient.

Navy Disposable Patient Blanket

Reduce waste and improve patient dignity

Medline has developed the Navy Disposable Patient Blanket, a heat management tool made of 60 per cent recycled polyester fluff. Its lighter weight is the result of reduced raw material input; and packaging waste reduction is achieved by placing two blankets in one polyliner.

It also provides warmth and comfort by regulating patient temperature, and contributes to dignity by masking stains.
