

Disposable Headwear

Comfort and variety

Headwear

Covering your head and hair helps reduce the risk of foreign particles getting into surgical wounds and protects patients from potential contamination in operating theatres or ICUs. Medline's disposable headwear products offer a high level of comfort and come in a variety of shapes, sizes and designs that address hospitals' protective and aesthetic needs.

Our broad product range, including surgical hoods and caps, bonnets and bouffant caps, is suitable for a variety of operations and hairstyles. To offer you even more choice and meet your budget, Medline's headwear is available in cluster keyback, viscose and spunbond polypropylene materials that have passed biocompatibility requirements, are low linting and do not contain latex.

Comfort Line

The Comfort Line is Medline's preferred headwear product range for the operating theatre. Made of soft and breathable cluster keyback fabric, this line offers both a high level of comfort and a high level of protection. Comfort Line products are available in blue and green and a large variety of designs. Medline is committed to sourcing products from ethical and socially responsible factories around the world. That's why our Comfort product range is produced in a WRAP-certified facility.

Surgical caps without ties or elastic

These surgical caps do not contain ties or elastic, which makes them comfortable for longer periods of wear thanks to their lack of pressure areas. The caps are designed to fit well around the head due to the natural flexibility of the material.

The caps are ideal for nurses, visitors in the operating theatre and ward staff with short hair. Additionally, the edge of the bonnet (FS67050) can be tuned up to function as a sweatband for even more comfort.

Bouffant caps

These light and roomy caps with a round shape feature elastic all the way around, ensuring all hair is fully and securely covered and that the cap fits comfortably.

Bouffant caps are suitable for long and short hairstyles and provide comfort and breathability for staff in less critical areas in the hospital.

Very similar to the design of the bouffant cap, the compactly packed clip cap is ideal headwear for patients and visitors in less critical areas of the hospital.
